"Truth is sed to be stranger than fiction—it is to most folks."

Eastern leaders of the G. O. P. confer on finances without once saying, "boys, step on the gas!"

Amelia Earhart gets her picture in the paper by indorsing the favorite brand of cigarette that crossed the Atlantic with her. What d'ye mean, "Lady Lindy?"

French gendarmes are being taught to speak essential English and can already say goddam rosbiff with a perfect cockney accent.

During the armistice celebration in Paris, as we recall, the enthusiastic French populace quickly learned the American national hymn, and marched down the grand boulevards singing—
"Hell, hell, the gants all year!"

Big Bill Tilden now has no other consolation than can be found in the satisfying reflection that the writing racket is mightier than the tennis racket.

Mr. Hoover gets to California and the first mistake he doesn't make is the one Charles E. Hughes made in 1916.

New York fails in her attempt to deprive Washington of her basic industry, and the Republican campaign will continue to be manufactured where fuel, raw material and labor supply are most abundant.

The campaign interest can not fail, for Hellin is a howler, and Hoover swings the dinner pail. While Al will rush the growler.

Johnny Raskob is going to get a new model political club with a louder horn and a longer wheel base.

Out of the distant frozen north, Out of its ice and snows, A sorry figure shambles forth, Wearing a dead man's clothes!

A warrant issued in California in 1925 charging Herbert Hoover with violation of the motor law will not be served, as it is understood he is not out there for a rest.

Said Aaron to Moses "I'm worried just the least,

We're going to have an awful time in drying up the East, Yoddy hardly know the chill we got in counting up the noses— Most of them will vote for Al."

"You're mighty right," said Moses. It is rumored that Tom Hefflin after mature thought is coming slowly to the opinion that the assassination of Obregon and the breaking down of the slats in his Asbury Park hotel bed are parts of the same diabolical plot.

Mr. Johnson's interview with Mr. Hoover reveals that he doesn't think much of the way the Republican platform pussyfoots on the power trust question and that he will take the stump himself on a bolder dan plank.

With a new Southern Republican field general installed in separate headquarters in another Washington building, for dealing with the delicate Dixie situation, it looks as though the G. O. P. was going to carefully segregate the Lily White sheep from the Black-and-Tan goats.

With Tom Blanton coming out for Al it doesn't make much difference whether Gov. Smith succeeds in getting another dogdastig hook-up or not.

The dry board of the Methodist Episcopal Church, getting openly into politics, urges a bolt from Smith to Hoover. In other words it will resist "the attack of Tammany" by embracing the candidate of the party of Bill Vane and Bill Thompson. As Polonius well said to Ophelia:

"We are oft to blame in this, 'Tis too much prov'd, that with devotion's visage And pious action we do sugar o'er The Devil himself."

After a long discussion by the party leaders it is decided that national headquarters will remain under Herbert Hoover's hat.

In other words there is to be less race segregation in the Department of Commerce than in the department of politics, which looks a good deal like trying to work both sides of the street.

The fact that more fly nets were sold last year than ever before is cited as evidence that Dobbin hasn't been put out of business by the automobile, but we shall reserve opinion until the statistics are in showing the sales of buggy whips.

The Atlanta Evangelical Ministers Association, composed of Christian, Baptist, Methodist and Presbyterian clergymen, adopts resolutions condemning the presidential candidacy of Gov. Smith, and yet some people are still parading around about prohibition.

MUSSOLINI FORBIDS ANY ITALIA INQUIRY SAVE THAT BY ITALY

Other Plans Offensive, Rome Dictator Tells His Ministers.

FATE OF MALMGREN AGAIN IS DISCUSSED

Rescued Man Had Clothing and Compass of Dead Scientist, Is Report.

Rome, July 23 (A.P.).—As soon as everything humanly possible had been done to find the still missing members of the dirigible Italia, a complete investigation into all phases of the polar disaster will be made by Italy, Premier Mussolini informed the council of ministers today.

Such inquiry, the premier declared, "will naturally be made in Italy and by Italian personalities. Any other hypothesis is absurd and offensive, and whatever it might be and wherever the proposition came from, it would immediately be rejected."

The Italian premier protested against the "anti-human and anti-Italian" wave which has struck the participants in the unfortunate enterprise, and declared that definite judgment on the expedition must wait until "the drama arrived at its epilogue."

The premier was indignant in describing those who have criticized the actions of the rescued men of the Italia, saying that their utterances recalled "the miserable slanders of war time who, in cafes, in safety, without a shade of shame, spoke ill of how the battle was faring."

Mariano Is Recovering.

Capt. Alfredo Mariano is recovering normally from the operation for the amputation of part of his right leg and his morale is "very good," says an official communique from the Citta di Milano received here tonight.

The operation was performed July 20, before the Citta di Milano left Kings Bay with the survivors of the Italia expedition.

Capt. Mariano suffered from a frozen foot as a member of the Italia's "walking party" that left the main group of survivors near Foy Island in an effort to reach land. Gangrene set in shortly after he was rescued by the Russian icebreaker Krassin and an amputation of the leg about half way between the ankle and the knee was found necessary.

Fate of Malmgren Is Topic.

Moscow, July 23 (A.P.).—Intense interest in the exact fate of Dr. Finn Malmgren, Swedish meteorologist on the Italia expedition, has been stirred in Moscow by various reports and rumors as to the circumstances surrounding the rescue of Capt. Alberto Mariano and Filippo Zappi, his companions on a trek to land, beginning May 30.

The newspaper Verchnaya Moskva this morning published a dispatch from its correspondent aboard the rescue ship.

Writ May Fail to Halt Plan to Close Lee Road

Contractors Propose to Dynamite Spout Run Bridge Today Despite Order to Keep Buses Running. Injunction Not Effective, They Hold.

Although a temporary injunction was granted yesterday to prevent the Virginia State Highway Commission and contractors from proceeding with the widening of Lee Highway from Rosslyn to Cherrydale in such a way as to prevent buses from operating over the road, officials of the commission and the firm of Carson & Graham, the contractors, went ahead with plans for beginning the work.

The first step in the work as planned by the contractors is the dynamiting of the bridge over Spout Run at the entrance to Lyon Village. If this is destroyed, the buses operated by the Washington Virginia & Maryland Coach Co., which obtained the injunction, will be unable to proceed over the highway.

W. A. Gruman said his contracting firm had not been served with papers in the injunction suit and that it would proceed at 7 o'clock this morning to dynamite the bridge.

It had been planned to start work yesterday, and Gruman said last night that officials in Richmond had telephoned him and wanted to know why he had not gone ahead. The contractors had granted the bus company a 24-hour respite in order to rearrange its schedule, he explained.

In the meantime, Leon Arnold, president of the bus company, obtained the temporary injunction from Judge George L. Fletcher, at Warrenton, Va.

"We certainly shall go ahead this morning," said Gruman. "Our first step will be the destruction of the bridge. This most certainly will close the road to traffic."

J. C. Albright, division engineer for the State Highway Commission, said the injunction suit and that it

EVERY ONE CAN HEAR OR SEE GOV. SMITH UNDER RASKOB PLAN

Nominee Will Thoroughly Cover the Country, Chairman Says.

PERSONALITY IS HELD AN IMPORTANT ITEM

Few Speeches, Prepared With Care, Delivered by Radio, Are Contemplated.

New York, July 23 (A.P.).—Although Gov. Alfred E. Smith probably will make comparatively few speeches in his campaign for the Presidency, he will "thoroughly cover the country" so that every one "will have ample opportunity of either seeing him or hearing him over the radio," John J. Raskob, chairman of the Democratic national committee, said today.

The chairman said he believed the governor's "personality is a very important item" in the campaign.

"It is my belief that a campaign of that kind, conducted by the governor," he said, "would be very much more effective than just stumping the country from the back platform of a train."

Raskob asserted it is too difficult to say anything except a few catch phrases in such five-minute speeches.

Few Speeches Written With Care.

"I think the governor perhaps feels that in a campaign where it is possible to use the radio," he said, "it is more important to prepare relatively few speeches with a great deal of care in order that the people may have a proper appreciation of what he stands for, rather than to have a lot of short, spasmic speeches in great numbers."

A meeting of the Democratic executive committee was held today at which the budget system and expenses were discussed. Mr. Raskob said that as soon as the heads of the various committees are selected, each will prepare an estimate of what his department will need. In that way the amount needed for the campaign will be decided.

The chairman expected no difficulty in obtaining the amount of money needed. The only large expense, he said, will be for educational work and in getting the voters registered.

Name State Ticket Oct. 1.

The Democracy of New York State will meet at Rochester on October 1 and 2 to pick the ticket that is to work with Gov. Smith in an effort to put the Commonwealth's 45 electoral votes in the Democratic column next November.

The time and place of the State convention, which will name the candidates and adopt the platform on which they will run, were fixed today by the State committee, meeting at the National Democratic Club under the chairmanship of its leader, Lieut. Gov. Edwin Corning.

The question of State candidates, particularly for the governorship, was discussed informally, it was understood, although in rather a preliminary way, since the lines of the State campaign have not been definitely drawn.

Dozen Talked for Governor.

Nearly a dozen names have been suggested for the post at the head of the ticket, among them those of

EFFORT TO REMOVE G.O.P. HEADQUARTERS TO NEW YORK FAILS

Central Office to Stay in Capital, Eastern Leaders Decide.

MEETING DISCUSSES FINANCIAL PROBLEM

Hiram Johnson Confers With Hoover but Is Silent on National Issues.

New York, July 23 (A.P.).—National headquarters for the Republican presidential campaign this year will be at Washington, with a branch in Chicago, Dr. Hubert Work, national chairman, announced tonight. There will be no large headquarters branch in the East, he said.

The committee will follow in the presidential campaign the same policy of organization by States as was followed in the Hoover prevention campaign. This procedure, it was believed by the conferees, would make unnecessary any large eastern headquarters outside Washington.

The working organization of the committee in this campaign will follow very closely the plan adopted by Chairman Butler four years ago, it was indicated. Expenses will be budgeted and submitted to the chairman and treasurer by the end of the week, Dr. Work said.

Moses to Work From New York.

Today's conference also completed organization of the advisory committee, headed by Dr. Work, with Senator George H. Moses, Eastern director of the campaign, as vice chairman. The latter will operate from New York, coordinating the work of the senatorial, congressional and national committees.

Attending the conference besides the two vice chairmen Daniel E. Pomroy, and Representative Frank J. Burke, general counsel; National Committee member Frederick E. Peck, W. W. Atterbury, Earle S. Kingsley, Joseph W. Simpson, Glen L. Tait, D. O. Hastings, Jeremiah Milbank, Eastern treasurer, and John D. O'Leary.

Financing of Herbert Hoover's campaign for President and the possibility of New York as national headquarters were considered at the conference.

New York will be the pivotal State in the campaign and one of the main battlegrounds, Eastern leaders asserted in urging transfer of headquarters here. The speakers' bureau and national treasurer are to be located here.

The conference was held behind closed doors, but it was learned that formation of advisory committees to district treasurers and the suggestion of making public campaign contributions where they are made were taken up.

Twelve States Represented.

Each of the twelve States, except Massachusetts, was represented by one or more men.

Senator Moses, who believes this election will be the most bitterly contested since 1892, declared today he was more concerned about the outcome in Massachusetts than in any other State from Maine to Maryland.

"I do not mean," the New Hampshire senator said, "that Mr. Hoover will lose the electoral votes of Massachusetts before he can get to Maryland."

KEITH FIRM NEGOTIATES TO GET EARLE THEATER

Plans to Show Its Best Vaudeville at Thirteenth Street House.

MOVIES SHIFT POLICIES

By NELSON R. BELL.

Negotiations are well under way, it became known yesterday, which, if consummated, will result in a drastic change in the theatrical situation in Washington.

Conferences are now being held in New York which are expected to culminate this week in the announcement that the Earle Theater, now operated by the Stanley-Crandall Co. of Washington, will be taken over by the Keith-Albee-Orpheum interests and conducted as one of the ace houses of a vaudeville circuit that spans the continent, according to advices that are deemed reliable. This would mean the abandonment of the Keith house on Fifteenth street as the home of K-A-O vaudeville and the probable utilization of that theater for other purposes, the nature of which has not as yet been determined.

This step was exclusively, but not authoritatively, intimated in the motion picture section of last Sunday's Post, although at time of writing those impressions—last Wednesday—tangible evidence of the authenticity of the report was not obtainable. It has since been lent substance by the fact that two weeks' notice was given an employee of the Earle Theater last Friday night, forecasting, at least, a considerable change in house policy.

It has been further ascertained that future bookings for the Earle have been held in abeyance pending the outcome of the New York negotiations now in progress between the Stanley Co. of America, representing majority

MORONES IN HIDING, MEXICO CITY POLICE CONDUCT A SEARCH

Quiz Into Assassination of Obregon Is Aided by Churchmen.

SLAYER IS REPORTED IN FULL CONFESSION

Man Who Supplied Pistol Has Fled to U. S., Officials Say; Parley in Sonora.

Mexico City, July 23 (A.P.).—Luis Morones, political foe of Gen. Alvaro Obregon, and who resigned the ministry of labor at the behest of agrarian elements, was today the object of a search by the police. Gen. Antonio Rios Zertuche, appointed chief of police to investigate the assassination of Obregon, said that Morones was reported to be in hiding. He added that the police were investigating a rumor that he was concealed in Mexico City.

The chief also stated that Jose Deleón Toral, the art student who killed Gen. Obregon, had made a complete confession. Just what was in this statement was not revealed.

Catholic clergy have been cooperating with the police in their investigation.

Calles Blamed the Clergy.

The first pronouncement by President Calles after the killing of Obregon laid the blame for the crime upon Catholics generally and members of the priesthood in particular. This sentiment was echoed by Gen. Zertuche. He did not go into details respecting the cooperation which he is now receiving from leaders of the church.

Tracing the pistol which Deleón Toral used, police said they had discovered that it had been furnished by one Manuel Trejo. They assert that he has fled to the United States.

The statement by the chief of police that Catholic clergy were assisting the police in their investigation of Gen. Obregon's slaying, was taken in some quarters as possibly paving the way for an official statement withdrawing the sting of the recent assertion that the clergy were to blame for the assassination. At any rate, it served further to lessen the tension in Mexico City.

Ominous Atmosphere Gone.

Perhaps because of the emotional character of the national mourning for Gen. Emilio Carranza, the day was one almost without any trace of the ominous atmosphere that has prevailed since Gen. Obregon's assassination. In the homecoming of the air hero, surpassing any demonstration in Mexican history, the people were divided from brooding upon the Obregon tragedy.

Pledges of support continued to pour in on President Calles from all parts of the country and gradually a feeling of optimism concerning the future developed. In religious circles this feeling was manifest.

Resignation of Morones, Secretary of Labor, whose life has been in danger since the assassination of Gen. Alvaro Obregon, today was believed to have lessened the general feeling of tension.

Agriar leaders, naming Morones as one of the "psychological authors" of the crime, had asserted that unless he withdrew from the government there would be civil warfare.

The central committee of the regional federation of labor instructed Morones and two other labor leaders, Celestino Casca, chief of ordnance supplies, and Eduardo Moneda, chief of the government printing shops, to resign. President Calles promptly accepted their withdrawal from his government.

Col. Ricardo Topete, acknowledged leader of the Obregon national party, said that there was now little likelihood of disturbances.

Toral Ready to Pay With Life.

Toral, slayer of Gen. Obregon, is ready to pay for his crime with his life without trial, but the government continued firm today in its decision to bring the young art student before the civil courts. Toral refused the protection of the amparo or writ of habeas corpus issued in his behalf on Friday. He said he did not want it and had not asked for it.

Morones, long a political enemy of Gen. Obregon, explained that resignations of the labor leaders were "for the purpose of avoiding every pretext that our permanence in office may obstruct the maintenance of solidarity in the revolutionary family. We hope that commitment to the authorities of the statement made yesterday by Congressman Soto y Gama regarding our personalities may help once more to bring the truth to light on the murder which has justly brought consternation to the public."

Public threats against the life of Morones have been so frequent that he was under a constant guard. Soto y Gama and Aurelio Manrique, agrarian leaders, had denounced Morones and other labor leaders publicly as "psychological authors of the murder, whose fiery speeches led a youthful religious fanatic to kill the president-elect."

Morones demanded that the agrarian leaders be held before the courts to prove their charges against him.

Officials Confer in Sonora.

Nogales, Ariz., July 23 (A.P.).—High Mexican military and civic officials are conferring here.

PIGEONS AID NIGHT MAIL PILOTS

Racing pigeons fly only by day, but pilots of the Atlanta-New York air mail are trying to train them to fly at night when released from planes. If the experiment succeeds, the birds will become valuable in carrying emergency messages from night mail planes. Above is Sidney Malloy, pilot, with two racing pigeons.

Atlanta (A.P.).—Man, who has learned from the birds as he developed his flying efficiency, is attempting now to teach aerial craft to the birds. Air-mail pilots on the Atlanta-New York division, working in conjunction with a local pigeon breeder, believe they can train racing pigeons for night flights.

The aviators are carrying two birds with them on each night flight, releasing them at varying distances from home.

If a bird is released at night with a message to be returned to his loft, the pigeon will light as the first available resting place until morning, but the aviators think that if the birds are released from a moving airplane they will be forced to fly. Careful training, they hope, will develop birds that will serve as reliable night messengers.

The United States Government conducted training stations in several parts of the country where homing pigeons are bred and trained for war service with the Army and Navy, as well as for peacetime tasks of the Department of Agriculture and other branches of government service. The value of these pigeons will be doubled if they can be trained for night flying, experts declare.

The World War developed a number of heroes among the racing pigeons of the American Air. The stuffed body of a pigeon, the "Pigeon Mail," flew through flames and shell fire bearing a message from the "Lost Battalion," is mounted in a Washington museum. Cherani, a pigeon, was shot down by a German plane, but he bore the words which enabled aviators to locate their hard-pressed comrades, and which led to the eventual rescue of the American soldiers.

GEORGIA G. O. P. FIGHT REACHES COURT STAGE

Negro Editor Obtains Writ Restraining Leaders From Naming Electors.

COMMITTEE STATUS HIT

Atlanta, July 23 (A.P.).—Tangled affairs of the Republican party in Georgia were taken into court today when B. J. Cofer, Albany negro editor, obtained a temporary injunction restraining a group of party leaders from transacting business at a meeting here. Cofer, claiming that the meeting had been called for the purpose of naming presidential electors to appear on the party ticket in November, alleged the meeting was illegal. He said there now was no executive committee, the members' terms having expired at the Kansas City convention and no new national committee had been selected.

Eight were cited as defendants—Ben J. Davis, negro former national committee member; Roscoe Pickett, chairman of the central committee; J. T. Rose, collector of internal revenue for Georgia; John W. Martin, treasurer of the central committee; C. W. Harris, Athens, United States district attorney for northern Georgia; Mami Williams, Savannah, negro and former national committee member; J. H. Harris, Athens, negro and Joe H. Watson, Albany, negro who contested Davis for the national committee at Kansas City.

Pickett said he had declared the assembly adjourned shortly before the deputy arrived. He declared Davis had talked with him on the telephone Saturday and suggested a meeting be called.

"I told him that I would think it over and let him know," Pickett said. "I heard yesterday of the meeting and came down in my opinion it was called without authority and on Davis' own volition."

Pickett asserted that Davis had insisted that the meeting today was the State executive committee named at the Kansas City convention and had the right to choose electors.

"In my opinion," the chairman said, "only the Republican central committee of 72 members has the right to elect electors had been named the action would have been without authority."

Cofer, who obtained the injunction, one of the leaders of the movement to succeed Davis as national committee member.

Auto Washing Brings Rebuke for Teacher

Special to The Washington Post.

Meriden, Conn., July 23.—"I am earning my groceries," was the only complaint of Henry French, head of the local teachers' union, who was rebuked by the school board for washing his car in the school parking lot.

French, as head of the commercial department of the school, earns $27 a month less than the other teachers. Mrs. Eleanor Galant, member of the school board, declared she thought Mr. French's occupation was "unbecomingly low."

Harold Quinlan, also on the board, said he expressed the general indignation. Mr. French has a son who was recently appointed assistant in chemistry at Yale.

King's Cup Air Racer Found Dead in Hills

Selkirk, Scotland, July 23 (A.P.).—The body of G. N. Warwick, one of the contestants in an airplane race around Great Britain for the King's Cup, was found by a shepherd in a lonely spot among the hills south of St. Mary's Loch today.

Warwick, a 30-year-old barrister, has been unreported since he left Newcastle for Renfrew on Friday, and dozens of planes, scores of motor cars and hundreds of spectators crowded the country between Renfrew and Newcastle in vain. Warwick's wife was among the searchers.

GILLIOM TO QUESTION STEPHENSON IN CELL

Will Permit Former Klan Dragon to Disclose His "Story."

La Porte, Ind., July 23 (A.P.).—The scene of David C. Stephenson's fight for freedom shifts back to the former Klan leader's cell in the State Penitentiary at Michigan City tomorrow, where Attorney General Arthur Gilliom will permit the Klan leader to tell his "story" in depositions.

The action before Judge John Rich in circuit court here today was postponed until Thursday to allow Gilliom time for preparing objections to Stephenson's motion for dismissing his mandamus action against Warden Walter Daly of the State prison.

Stephenson unexpectedly objected to Gilliom's motion for dismissal, given until Thursday to prepare arguments on why the court should rule that no further mandamus action be permitted the former grand dragon.

Stephenson, seeking the mandamus writ in order to force the warden into granting permission for a last interview in prison with his counsel, decided to drop the action after he was allowed a private interview last week.

The former Klan chief is serving a life term for causing the death of a young woman three years ago.

DOCTOR INSISTS COUPLE GAGGED HIM, SLEW WIFE

Wilkes-Barre Physician Says He Regained Consciousness, Found Spouse Dying.

IS CLOSELY QUESTIONED

Wilkes-Barre, Pa., July 23 (A.P.).—Through a day of close questioning by State police and county detectives at Wyoming Barracks, Dr. H. H. Hoffman today maintained his story of the killing of his wife early Sunday at their home in Ashley.

The doctor, a nerve-shaken shadow of his former self, insists that early Sunday morning he and his wife were attacked by a mysterious man and woman. He alleges he was overpowered, trussed up and gagged by the pair, and that later, after a period of unconsciousness, he succeeded in freeing himself. Then he found Mrs. Hoffman dying on the floor. Police say blood was found under the fingernails of Dr. Hoffman, but he insists this came from lifting his wife's head when he had found her on the floor.

Dr. Hoffman insists that late Saturday night after they had eaten watermelon together and chatted pleasantly he kissed her good night and embraced her. She went to bed, he says, and then followed the attack by the mysterious man and woman.

The weapon with which Mrs. Hoffman was beaten has not been found.

The police said the doctor's description of his assailants is vague. He says both were tall and the man was "Polish," but that is all he can recall of them.

INDIAN, AT 90, WINS SUN DANCE CONTEST

Edmo Finishes 3-Day Ordeal, Without Food or Water, in Best Condition.

Fort Hall, Indian Reservation, Idaho, July 23 (A.P.).—Peace, prosperity and happiness will reign over the three Indian tribes of this reservation for another twelve months.

This was the declaration of medicine men and chieftains of the Shoshones, Bannocks and Lemhis as the annual sundance continued without interruption for three days and nights, ended shortly after sunrise this morning.

As the sun broke into view over the hills a great final outburst came to the Indians, their fervor throwing off the fatigue of the days and nights without food or water and the dance concluded with a climax of frenzied action.

Thomas Edmo, 90 years old, stood the rigors of the dance better than many of the younger braves, and was again proclaimed the greatest dancer of the reservation, an honor which he has long held.

Two Policemen Fined On Contempt Charge

Two policemen yesterday were fined $10 each for contempt of court by Judge McMahon in Police Court.

They had failed to appear on time for the presentation of a jury case in Judge McMahon's court and when they did arrive the judge administered severe verbal castigation.

Precinct Detectives Michael Dowd and John Boxwell of the Sixth Precinct were the offending officers. They told the judge they had been busy in the preparation of several other cases and had been detained.

Judge McMahon said he was tired of having jury cases delayed by the nonappearance of officers.

DRIVER WILL BE HELD

James Cheney, 24 years old, of Landover, Md., was seriously injured and three other persons were hurt slightly yesterday afternoon in an automobile accident on the Marlboro pike, 3 miles from the District line.

The car driven by Cheney and a car owned by Mrs. Elizabeth Penn, 539 Ninth street southeast, collided. The Penn car was driven by Francis C. Bailey, 7 Fifth street southeast. The occupants of the Penn car, including Mrs. Penn's two children, were uninjured.

The injured persons were Mrs. Viola Cheney, Cheney's wife, who was cut on the hand; William Gedeon, 68 years old, Landover, Md., cut on the left shoulder and shock; and Bessie Kays, 17, Capitol Heights, Md. Mrs. Cheney's two small children were not injured.

The injured were taken to Casualty Hospital and treated by Dr. C. M. Hall, with the exception of the Kays girl, who was treated at Providence Hospital. They were brought to Washington in automobiles belonging to persons living near where the accident occurred.

Dr. Hall said Cheney was in a serious condition but that a more thorough examination is necessary. The entire Cheney party was detained at the hospital until the arrival of Prince Georges County Police Constable Frank Prince, who ordered that Cheney be detained for the Maryland authorities as soon as he recovers.

According to Prince, the two cars came together with a terrific impact, and the Cheney car, a light sport coupe, turned over. It slid on its side for 50 feet and struck a telegraph pole, he said.

Gedeon's clothing almost was torn from his body, and Cheney's shirt was pulled from his foot and left in the car.

He was introduced by Lieut. Col. West A. Hamilton. Musical numbers were furnished by Maurice Tibbs, Lester Dorsey and Thomas Heathman. Samuel A. Watson presided.

Special to The Washington Post.

Clarkburg, W. Va., July 23.—Cheating the law, Joseph Kolmeski, 40, Galleyway miner, who hacked off the head of his former sweetheart with an axe while infuriated with jealousy upon hearing that she had arranged to elope with another man, yesterday hanged himself with a piece of wire taken from a room in a cell of the Barbour County Jail at Phillips.

Nobody claimed his body and it was buried today by the county. Kolmeski confessed to the slaying of the girl, Katie Bullock, 19, and said he was sorry he had not also killed her new admirer, Stanley Kusic, 20.

Annual Roundup on Island of Steeds From Spanish Ship Long Ago.

Chinoteague Island, Va., July 22 (A.P.).—The fictitious horse marine becomes an actual reality here each summer when Virginia fishermen, wearing their deep-sea boots, hold their annual roundup of wild horses on Chinoteague and Assateague Islands.

The wily little ponies, said to be descendants of Spanish cavalry horses cast ashore after a wreck 200 years ago, live in the marsh lands of the coast and subsist on wild forage throughout the year. The penning and branding of the animals in the summer months is the occasion for an annual festivity attended by visitors from all sections of the East. A highway of white shell construction permits easy access by automobiles.

For many years it has been the custom of Virginia's governor to attend the roundup. This year Gov. Harry F. Byrd is the guest of honor at the barbecue, oyster roast and athletic games held in conjunction with the roundup.

Paris, July 22 (A.P.).—French policemen are making rapid progress in study of the English language, but there are some situations, which require more than a knowledge of English.

Recently the police English instructor gave a practical demonstration in the presence of Madame Chlappe, wife of the prefect of police.

Before 20 police students, the instructor first impersonated an Englishman who was driving his automobile on the left side of the street. This crisis was safely met by all the police.

"Where do you think you are, in Lunnon?" one of the younger cops, with the purest cockney accent asked in a friendly way.

The instructor said: "I am an American gentleman outraged because the watter has immersed his thumb in the soup he was serving. How would you go about settling the argument?"

A bright officer retorted: "This knowledge necessitates an extensive knowledge of boxing, not language."

DON'T get alarmed. Diminution is a perfectly good word meaning reduction. And reduction is a word that's in common use around this store right now. NAVY HEAD CARRIES NEWS OF NICARAGUA SITUATION TO DRULE Indicates Efforts to Stabilize Conditions Have Met With Success.

WILBUR AND COOLIDGE DISCUSS 1930 BUDGET

Morgan Firm Official, Friend of President, Visits at Summer Lodge.

Superior, Wis., July 23 (A.P.)—Good news of great importance regarding America's present efforts to pacify and stabilize Nicaragua was brought to President Coolidge today by Secretary Wilbur of the Navy Department.

Mr. Wilbur, who stopped off here on his way to the Pacific Coast, upon returning, said that he could not reveal the specific nature of his information before telling Mr. Coolidge at the summer White House. He indicated, however, that it concerned United States efforts to quell the numerous bandit bands which, under the guidance of Augusto Sandino, have kept Nicaragua in a state of turmoil since civil war was stopped last year by the efforts of Henry H. Stimson, acting as Mr. Coolidge's personal representative.

The Naval Secretary said he considered the information he was bringing as very important and very encouraging. He mentioned the numerous demonstrations which have lately occurred from Sandino's forces as a very good indication of the success which the United States policy of pacification is obtaining in that country.

Budget Is Discussed.

Preliminary naval budget estimates for the 1930 fiscal year were also subjects of discussion between the Chief Executive and Mr. Wilbur.

Thomas Cochran, a personal friend of Mr. Coolidge, and a partner in the banking house of J. P. Morgan & Co., also arrived here today to be Mr. Coolidge's guest at Cedar Island Lodge.

Mr. Cochran said he had no special reason for coming to the summer White House besides his friendship for Mr. Coolidge.

Mr. Coolidge was fishing when both Mr. Wilbur and Mr. Cochran arrived at the lodge, and did not return from the Brule until nearly lunch time. The two guests, however, were received and entertained until then by Mrs. Coolidge.

Spokesman for Vast Network Declares Aim Will Be Complete Impartiality to Candidates for Acceptance Speeches for Public Interest.

New York, July 1 (A.P.)—The acceptance speeches of Hoover and Smith will be broadcast to the entire nation by the National Broadcasting Co. and the American Broadcasting Co. Regularly and without cost to the candidate, it was announced tonight by M. H. Aylesworth, president of the N. B. C., that Hoover speech is to be made August 11 and Smith's at a date to be set by him, probably during the week of August 19 with the Republican national committee for the National Broadcasting Co. and the American Broadcasting Co. The acceptance speech of Herbert Hoover from Palo Alto, Calif., on August 11, to radio listeners throughout the entire country, will be the first time that they have offered the N. B. C. nation-wide system to the Democratic national committee for the approval of a definite time by Gov. Smith.

"The National Broadcasting Co.'s system has been offered gratuitously to Sen. Smith," it will be carefully pointed out, "because acceptance speeches are of national public interest."

It is now being followed by utilizing radio broadcasting will be on the regular charge basis and no party preference will be shown.

"We fully appreciate the great importance of radio broadcasting in the present campaign," said a regular political broadcasting time schedule are now being worked out with the party organizations to insure fairness and impartiality.

"During the broadcasts of the Republican and Democratic national committees, the N. B. C. and the American National Broadcasting Co. and its associated stations made a nation-wide broadcast of the acceptance speeches of political broadcasts. It was found that the public interest in the convention broadcasts had exceeded that of any other political event and was available to the entire nation through radio broadcasting. Courts were recessed in many schools and auditoriums were turned over to crowds eager to hear the conventions. The ears of the nation were turned to the radio."

"The broadcasting studio has taken the place of the political meeting room and the people will be carefully interested in the homes of the people."

South Carolina Democrats, However, Hold Support of Candidates Binding.

Columbia, S. C., July 23 (A.P.)—South Carolinians who vote in the Democratic primary are voting under the false impression that support State and national nominees in the general elections; but if they do and it is possible for any reason to vote in the general election the infraction will be overlooked, the Democratic State executive committee declared.

The committee, after nearly three hours of debate, found itself in a deadlock. It had voted that Charles E. Roach, a prominent Charlestonian, was technically correct when he declared that a voter in the primary must vote for the State and national nominees under the famous rule 32 of the South Carolina Democratic party. It also had voted that the committee should not consider it the sense of the committee that living up to the rule by an individual voter was a matter for his own conscience.

Then suddenly the party leaders found themselves with the prospect of a general convention on the next day. Under the hands of the Roach, of Columbia, editor of the South Carolina Christian Advocate, challenged the Atlanta, Ga., July 23 (A.P.)—The Atlanta Evangelical Ministers Association today adopted resolutions condemning the presidential candidacy of William Smith of Texas. The association is composed of local Baptist, Christian, Methodist Episcopal South and Presbyterian ministers and about 100 attended the meeting.

After the Atlanta Evangelical Ministers Association had adopted such a resolution, reaffirming the resolutions passed by the North Georgia conference last November, "no minister in the association was known whose record is favorable to the repeal of the eighteenth amendment or modification of the Volstead act."

The resolutions called on "Protestant ministers and laymen to join Jewish rabbis" to combine against the New York governor.

100 Members to Offer Services to Appeal for Election of Ticket.

The Lawyers' Smith and Robinson Club for the District of Columbia effected a permanent organization by election in the University Club last night. The members will offer their services to the Democratic party in the coming year and will go forth to wherever they may need to appeal for the election of the Democratic ticket.

Among the officers who were elected permanent officials last night were as follows: President, Charles A. Douglass; secretary, John F. Costello; Joseph P. Tumulty, C. C. Calhoun, and Etta Taggart; secretary, John E. Lasker; treasurer, Levi H. David; assistant secretary, John F. Barbour; and national vice presidents, living outside of Washington but practicing here, were John F. Barbour, of Virginia; and M. H. Magruder and Lansdale G. Sasser, of Maryland. The latter was named director of publicity.

A letter from John F. Costello, of the District national committee, was read and the members expressed their gratification at learning of the organization of the club, and predicted that it would be of great assistance in the campaign.

senator against Senator Robert M. La Follette, progressive Republican, was announced today.

Mayor Mead, the first regular Republican actively to announce his intention of opposing the young senator for reelection, is a member of the board of regents of the University of Wisconsin and president of the Consolidated Water Power & Paper Co.

"I propose to stand for the principles of the Republican party as set forth in the national platform of the party and will aid, insofar as I am able, the election of Hoover and Curtis," Mayor Mead's announcement said.

1925 Hoover Warrant Is Ignored by Court

Burlingame, Calif., July 23 (A.P.)—A warrant for the arrest of Herbert Hoover issued out of the court of Justice of the Peace Walter Bird here, charging that the distinguished Californian violated the motor vehicle laws, by driving with glaring headlights, will not be served.

Justice of the Peace Perry Jackson announced today that the warrant was issued in October, 1925, settling the case for trial in November, 1925. By that time Hoover was out of the State and the case was forgotten until residents here recalled the situation upon Hoover's return to California.

Judge Jackson, who succeeded Bird, said today that there was no disposition to renew the warrant against Hoover, and that he was now protected by the statute of limitations.

Chicago, July 23 (A.P.).—The United States was warned to develop "a most deadly gas" by Sir James Irvine, principal of St. Andrews University, Scotland, today in an interview. The internationally famous chemist and physicist is here to deliver four lectures before the Institute of Chemistry of the American Chemical Society.

"If I can find time in my lectures," said Sir James, "I believe I shall discuss poison gas. You see I recently heard some criticism of the work the United States was doing in the development of a truly devastating poison gas. The criticism was from within your own country—not without. I thought it was foolishly idealistic. "We must admit that the United States is a great idealist as a nation and the world's principal force for lasting peace. "I do not believe any nation is in a position to criticize America. Poison gas is a fact. It has been forced on all nations by all other nations through its development in the World War and we must accept it as a fact. "America can do this great peace work she has led in doing only by developing a most deadly gas by creating and maintaining an adequate navy and an adequate system of national defense. "Every farm in the United States is a chemical factory. Dr. Charles A. Brown, of the Bureau of Chemistry and Soils of the United States Department of Agriculture, said tonight before the institute. "Chemical research is vital to the advance of agriculture and to national prosperity, but it has an immense distance yet to travel, said Dr. Brown, one of a group of scientists appearing at the sessions opening agriculture week at the conference. "Losses to agriculture products from dust explosions, spontaneous combustion and similar causes have opened an important sphere of work for the agricultural chemist," he said, adding that chemical engineers of the Agricultural Department have greatly reduced losses from these causes already by appliances for eliminating dust from threshing machines and grain elevators and for removing static electricity. "Chemistry's Growing Importance. "When American people change their foods and their dress there is need of readjustment in the agriculture which produces agricultural products and by devising improved methods of utilization," he said, chemistry now is playing a role of increasing importance in creating new markets for agricultural products. "The fundamental principles which agricultural chemistry has discovered in one and one-half centuries, he said, are the law of the minimum and the law of diminishing returns, but these are general laws applying also to industry. The last bushel in a yield of wheat or the last pound in the weight of a fattened steer, he said in illustration, cost the most to produce and the last residues of impurities in the last traces of gold in an ore are relatively the most expensive to remove. "The laws of the same chemistry and of the same economics are operative in both in agriculture and industry," he said. "If these laws are given equal play in each instance, we shall have the same equally beneficial results."

General Outdoor Advertising Co. Handles $35,000,000 Annual Business.
CONSENT DECREE FAILS

New York, July 23 (A.P.).—An injunction suit against the General Outdoor Advertising Co., Inc., and eight other defendants, alleging violation of the antitrust law and specific acts in restraint of trade, was filed by the Federal Government here today. The principal defendant is said to handle $35,000,000 worth of the $75,000,000 outdoor advertising business done annually in this country. The other defendants named in the action were National Outdoor Advertising Bureau, Inc.; Outdoor Advertising Association of America, Inc.; Foster & Kleiser Co.; Foster & Kleiser Investment Co.; Kerwin H. Fulton; George Johnson; George Armaby and George W. Kleiser. Mr. Fulton, president of the General Outdoor Advertising Co., said that the filing of the suit by the Department of Justice followed "an extended negotiation with the department concerning the possibility of a consent decree in equity."

In the latter stages of this negotiation," the statement continued, "the department took the position that the company should be restricted as to certain activities necessary in the judgment of the company to the proper servicing of contracts for outdoor advertising made by the company with its advertiser clients. This company, realizing that the restrictions proposed by the department would render impracticable the delivery of a satisfactory service to users of the medium and would seriously impair, if not destroy, the company's ability to sell the medium in volume sufficient to support the industry, had been unable to meet the terms which the department has sought to impose. "The Government alleges that an illegal monopoly was created in the organization of the General Outdoor Advertising Co. three years ago by the merger of the Thomas C. Cullen Co. and several concerns known as "The Fulton Group." Horace B. Lamb, Special Assistant Attorney General, asked that the company either be dissolved or enjoined from unlawfully interfering with the competitors and from coercing advertisers and agencies to contract exclusively with it.

The last named already has announced his candidacy. It is expected, however, that Gov. Smith necessarily will have the final word in the selection of the candidate. The governor has not indicated a preference. The convention will also choose a candidate to succeed United States Senator Royal S. Governor Saves Strength. Albany, N. Y., July 23 (A.P.).—Conserving energy for the later days of the presidential campaign, Gov. Smith is looking forward to a comparatively quiet and restful week. He said today that he had no political engagements on his calendar, except a conference, late in the week with Gov. Ritchie, of Maryland. The time and place for that meeting has not been determined. In the selection of the executive mansion the Democratic nominee will have further opportunity to work out in his mind details of his acceptance speech which he has promised will touch on all issues of the campaign in conclusive fashion. He has not yet begun actual preparation of that address. The present plan is to have the governor officially notified of his nomination at a night ceremony on the steps of the capitol four weeks hence. Difficulty has been experienced by his managers in arranging a nation-wide radio hook-up for the event, but Smith himself took steps today to correct any impression that he felt radio agencies were throwing obstacles in his way. Confident of a Hookup. As the nominee looks at it, there is bound to be trouble in arranging for an extensive radio network for such a ceremony because of the fixed contracts of commercial broadcasters, but he is Norristown, Pa., July 23 (A.P.).—After Dr. Virginia Alvarez Hussey, facing her husband in the Montgomery County Jail, persisted today that she had killed him, District Attorney Renninger directed that she be removed to the State Hospital for mental diseases. Meanwhile, the husband, Lindsey M. Hussey, writer and chemist, is being held in jail awaiting hearing on warrants which Dr. Hussey swore out several days before she "surrendered" and told the police she had killed him and a woman.

Mrs. Grace T. Sauveur, wealthy divorcee, of Ambler, near here, for whom Dr. Hussey also had a warrant issued, is a liberty on her own recognizance. Mrs. Sauveur and Hussey, who were found late Saturday night at the home of a friend in New Jersey, waived extradition and returned to Norristown voluntarily, asserting that they left simply because they knew Dr. Hussey was overpowered by false suspicions and might try to harm them. When Dr. Hussey was confronted in her cell by her husband she said, "This can not be my husband. I shot him, and I saw him fall, and then I shot the woman."

Told that Hussey and Mrs. Sauveur had been found in the home of a friend directly above her, Mrs. Hussey cried out: "I don't believe it. I killed him. I tell you I saw him drop out of the automobile when I fired twice, and she dropped over too. They're both dead." Mrs. Hussey is under the care of physicians and mentalists have called on her several times since she was placed in prison on Friday on the technical charge of carrying concealed weapons. A short stop was made in Columbus, Ohio. Edward Quesada was pilot of the plane.

Son and Daughter of French Pretender Are Received at Court.

London, July 23.—Readers of the Court Circular, official publication giving the doings at court, rubbed their eyes this morning when they read the following paragraph: "The Duke and Duchess of Apulia, and Prince Henry of France visited the king and queen this afternoon." Prince Henry of France is the son and heir of the late King of the Hellenes, pretender to the French throne, and the Duchess of Apulia, his sister, was formerly Princess Anne of France. Prince Henry, who is killed from France, is a student at Louvain University. In royal circles, once a king always a king. Although the Orleansists have not reigned in France for over 100 years, the Duc de Guise is still king of France when he comes to the English court. Manuel of Portugal is still King Emanuel, and his wife is Queen of Portugal, while doubtless if William Hohenzollern called on his cousin at Buckingham palace he would be the German Kaiser and King of Prussia for a few minutes at least. Backs Smith's Candidacy

Representative Thomas L. Blanton (Democrat), of Texas, as ardent a dry as ever sat in the House, has come out for Gov. Alfred E. Smith, according to word received here. Blanton is now campaigning for the senatorial nomination in his State. Shortly after Blanton announced his support of Smith, a Texas Democrat sent him this message: "I hope that every Democrat who supports Smith in the primary is defeated." To which Blanton replied: "Before the national convention I was supporting Cordell Hull, of Tennessee, but two-thirds of our party now have spoken. Under our party rule such a nomination prevails, and I feel it is my duty to support the mandate of my party. "None have been wiser than the Coolidge administration. I led the fight against and helped kill the bill to put this Government into a gigantic liquor combine. And the present Republican regime has had in it some of the greatest grafters known to civilized government. "If you turn from the Democratic party, where on earth will you go? Both Hoover and Mellon are fully as wet as Smith. And, as wet as all of them are, there will be enough of us sober Democrats in Washington to keep our law intact regardless. Don't jump out of the frying pan into the fire."

Record Fly Net Sales Held to Mean Farm Aid

Chicago, July 23 (A.P.).—More fly nets made more horses—more horses mean more market for hay and grain—and the result is farm relief.

This is the formula E. W. Anderson used to prove his contention that horses are not only holding their own against tractors and other horse-eliminating equipment, but they are coming back. "More fly nets for horses were sold last year than ever before in the history of the industry," Anderson, one of the representatives of net and blanket manufacturers, said at an exhibit here, said, "There are more than 17,000,000 horses and 5,000,000 mules employed in doing the Nation's heaviest work. The farmer is beginning to realize that when he tried to do away with horses he was also doing away with the market for his hay and grain."

In Brooklyn Judge Inch ordered eight restaurants, dwellings and saloons padlocked for periods of from two to six months each. Father and Girl Protege of Author Home; Novelist Not With Them.

PROSECUTION IS DENIED

New York, July 23 (A.P.).—The mystery angles in the plot centering around Max Bodenheim, poet and novelist and some-time literary critic, has been virtually cleared away tonight. The only seeming mystery remaining was the whereabouts of Bodenheim. Dr. Martin J. Loeb, Bronx physician who went to Provincetown, Mass., where the poet-novelist-critic has a summer cottage, yesterday to get his daughter, Gladys, was back today. Gladys was "back" too, her father said, but was staying with friends whose address was withheld. Police said they had no interest in Bodenheim and Deputy Inspector Carey denied that a warrant had been issued for the author. "If we did have a warrant for his arrest," he told reporters, "it would be a violation of the law to discuss it."

Dr. Loeb also told reporters he would not prosecute Bodenheim. "What reason could I have?" he asked. "Chief of Police Williams, of Provincetown, has checked up on my daughter's story and has definitely proven that everything she told me was true. "He found that she spent Thursday night with a woman in Provincetown and Friday was alone in Boston. I was with her Saturday. She didn't go to Provincetown just to see Bodenheim. She knows several people up there and she's shown her poems to other literary men, too."

Some of his daughter's work, Dr. Loeb said, was good, and some was "very rotten." "I'm going to send her back to college," he continued. "She didn't try to commit suicide because Bodenheim had told her she was no good, but because she was brooding over her failure at college." He said his daughter was staying at the moment with friends, but would not say where.

FORT MYER STUDENTS HOLD ESQUESTRIAN MEET

200 Parents of Trainees Witness Events at Citizens Military Camp.

TROOPS RIDE BAREBACK

Heat and rain failed to keep more than 200 parents of students of the citizens' military training camp at Fort Myer, Va., from attending the field day held at that post yesterday.

Five Mall Buildings To Be Ready by 1932

Five projects of the local Federal building program north and south of the Mall will be finished or nearing completion by 1932, according to estimates of members of the Public Buildings Commission. These are the Department of Commerce, Internal Revenue, Departments of Labor and Justice structures in the triangle north of the Mall and the Department of Agriculture addition south of it.

The year of the celebration of the bicentennial of Washington's birthday also is expected to see the completion of the Mount Vernon boulevard and the relocation of Botanic Gardens in the area between First, Second and Canal streets and Maryland avenue at the eastern end of the triangle north of the Mall. The Capitol-Union Station Plaza work and construction of the Arlington Memorial Bridge also will be nearing completion at that time, it is estimated.

200,000 IDLE IN BRITAIN FACING "DEPORTATION"

Official Inquiry Recommends
That Army of Jobless
Leave Homeland.

London, July 23 (A.P.).—The breaking of the home ties of at least 200,000 of England's army of unemployed is necessary if these men are to earn honest livings, said a report made public today by the industrial transference board. The investigators, instructed by the government to examine the whole subject, said that numbers of workers of the total number unemployed, can not hope to make both ends meet if they remain in their present domiciles. Transfer of many of these to other places within this country is advocated, but emigration is stressed as a better plan. Yet such is the condition of the workers, that they must have financial help in buying tickets and purchasing suitable clothing for their trips to new lands.

Simplification of emigration procedure and reduction in the costs of steamer passages also are recommended. The board believes that the British "heavy" industries, such as mining, weaving, steel manufacturing and railroading, can not provide for some time livings for their normal quota of workers. It asserts that the men themselves realize this and refutes any belief that the workers are unwilling to make the necessary effort toward improving the conditions of themselves and their families.

As many workers as possible should be changed from depressed trade areas in England to places where there is a better chance for the man who is willing to work, said the board's report. It added that the success of this measure will depend on the realization by the unemployed of the stark realities of the situation and the cooperation of employers and other private persons in fostering opportunities for employment.

Wife Charges Cruelty.
Desertion and cruelty are charged against Robert C. Chatfield in a petition for limited divorce filed yesterday in Equity Court by Mrs. Eva Chatfield, 1137 Tenth street northwest. They were married July 11, 1922. Attorney Alfred D. Smith appeared for Mrs. Chatfield.

Fleming Craig Faces Trial in Dual Slaying

Special to The Washington Post.
Stuart, Va., July 23.—Fleming Craig went on trial here today in the Patrick Circuit Court, charged with the murder of Edward and Russell Morrison in what is said to have been the climax to an old feud. His father, Anthony Craig, and his brother, Raleigh, were jointly indicted with him, but the Commonwealth elected to sever the trials. Judge Turner Clement is presiding.

The State's evidence was virtually completed today. That of the defense is expected to consume tomorrow, leaving Wednesday for arguments. Fleming Craig is said by State witnesses to have been aroused by the alleged act of the Morrisons in running over his foot in a narrow lane and to have summoned his father, brother and two others and trailed the Morrisons to a friend's house, where the shooting took place.

W. R. Callahan Held As Parker's Slayer

Special to The Washington Post.
Lynchburg, Va., July 23.—W. R. Callahan, this city, was held today in Municipal Court on a charge of murdering Howard J. Parker, formerly of this city, who lived at Salem, Ore., at the time of the assault, when he was visiting here. Parker was assaulted with a stick the night of July 4 and died last Saturday.

Liner Brings Body Of Doctor Suicide

New York, July 23 (A.P.).—The body of Dr. Russell W. Erickson, 29, Minneapolis, who committed suicide in his cabin, July 19, by cutting his throat, arrived today on the Scandinavian-American liner Helligolav. The doctor's father met the ship and started West with the body.

Dr. Erickson sailed for Copenhagen June 30, arriving July 10. That same afternoon he sailed homeward on the Helligolav. During both voyages he was said to have been erratic in behavior and spoke with no one.

U. S. OFFICIAL DOOM COOL TO ITALIA HERO'S VISIT

Lack of Diplomatic Relations
With Soviet Given as Governing Reason.

(Associated Press.)
Moscow dispatches reporting the acceptance of an invitation to visit the United States by Prof. Samoilovich, head of the Russian rescue expedition aboard the Krassin, and the Russian pilot, Chukhnovsky, aroused little interest today among American Government officials.

They have not been officially advised of the proposed visit, the invitation having been extended by the Russo-American Chamber of Commerce in New York. They indicated, however, that since the United States has no diplomatic relations with Soviet Russia, none of its officials could with propriety receive the two Russians should the promoters of their trip contemplate such a presentation.

Even Government officials at New York, it was said, undoubtedly would refrain from taking part in their reception, whether New York City officials participated or not.

Before embarking upon their voyage to the United States the Russians will have to obtain visas of their Russian passports from an American consular officer at some city in the countries bordering Russia.

They also must satisfy the consul that they do not come within the provisions under which undesirable aliens are barred to the United States. Should they be successful in satisfying the consul with their answers they might be granted the usual visitors' visas for a stay of six months in this country.

Moscow, July 23 (A.P.).—Pilot Chukhnovsky, Russian flyer, who distinguished himself in the rescue of members of the missing Italia, and Prof. Samoilovich, head of the Russian rescue expedition aboard the Krassin, have accepted an invitation from the Russo-American Chamber of Commerce in New York to visit the United States. Foreign Minister Tchitcherine, in a letter addressed to Charles Smith, vice president of the Russo-American Chamber of Commerce, concerning the invitation, said:

"Please inform Reeve Schley (president of the Russo-American Chamber of Commerce) that the invitation that Samoilovich and Chukhnovsky deeply appreciate the kind sentiments expressed in his telegram, and it is with pleasure that they accept the invitation which they will avail themselves of as soon as the rescue work of the expedition is completed. I shall not fail to advise you as soon as they are ready to undertake the journey."

ITALY BANS OUTSIDE INQUIRIES ON ITALIA

ship Krassin. This dispatch was dated Kings Bay, Spitzbergen, and said that rumors concerning the organization of an international commission to investigate the circumstances of Dr. Malmgren's death were forming the chief theme of conversation among the rescued men. The mystery surrounding the Swedish scientist's death also had stirred the crew of the Krassin deeply the dispatch said.

The correspondent included among various circumstances needing explanation the fact that Capt. Zappi, in addition to his own clothes, wore Dr. Malmgren's suit.

A dispatch from the correspondent of Tass, the Soviet news agency, aboard the Krassin, also said that when Capt. Zappi was rescued he had clothes as well as a compass belonging to Dr. Malmgren.

The original report of Pilot Chukhnovsky, Russian flyer, attached to the Krassin, who first discovered the Zappi party, that he saw three figures, one lying down apparently dead, is the subject of further discussion.

Chukhnovsky is quoted by the Tass correspondent as saying: "My companions in the plane, like myself, saw two men standing. One waving a flag while a few meters distant lay a figure resembling a big letter A."

The story told by the two Italians is that Dr. Malmgren collapsed near Rock Island, and that on his urgent plea to them to go on and bring help to their comrades still stranded near Foy Island, they left him on the ice.

Base Ship Goes to Norway.
Oslo, Norway, July 23 (A.P.).—The Italian legation received a telegram today stating that the base ship Citra di Milano has left Kings Bay, Spitzbergen, for Narvik, Norway, with the Italia's survivors.

It is expected that Gen. Noble and the other rescued members of the Italia will proceed by rail through Sweden in a special Italian coach, avoiding Stockholm. It is stated that no interviews whatever will be granted during the journey.

The Italian correspondent at Kings Bay, Dr. Salvatore Aponte, in a dispatch to the newspaper Tidens Tegn today, urged that judgment as to the death of Dr. Finn Malmgren be reserved until the full report of the tragedy can be published. It is too early, he said, to reach a correct conclusion, either concerning the events that led to the death of Dr. Malmgren or the Italia tragedy. He said that Gen. Umberto Noble was so weak and ill when he was rescued from the ice near Foy Island and so depressed by his mishaps and the unfortunate position of his comrades that he had been unable to make a clear report of what had happened.

"Clear Report" Promised.
"A detailed and clear report, however, will be written and submitted to the Italian nation and the world," Dr. Aponte concluded.

Dr. Aponte is correspondent for the Corriere della Sera of Rome.

The Norwegian cruiser Tordenskjold and the French cruiser Strasbourg, which have been engaged in searches for the missing explorer, Roald Amundsen, and his five companions, are expected to arrive at Tromsø tomorrow without having found any traces of the missing men.

Rumors continued to pour in to Oslo concerning the fate of the Italia expedition. One of them circulated tonight was to the effect that the Norwegian aviator, Capt. Riser-Larsen, had found the body of Dr. Finn Malmgren, the Swedish scientist. There was no confirmation of the report.

"Now! I am right—"

Without plenty of rich, red blood, there can be no strong, sturdy, powerful men, or beautiful, healthy women.

"FORTUNATELY, I found myself in time. I was going down! down! down! I didn't want to eat; there was no desire for it. My muscles were getting flabby—I tired easily. Many a morning I would get up after a sleepless night feeling that I could hardly pull through the day. I was also troubled with those annoying so-called skin troubles. Then, one day a friend urged me to give S.S.S. a trial. Before finishing the first bottle, I could see I was improving. That was only a few weeks ago. Today I feel more like myself than I have in years."

Loss of appetite is only a symptom

It is a known fact that when one's system gets "run-down," they haven't the resistance to ward off disease. Loss of appetite is only a symptom. General weakness pervades the entire body. There is no desire to work or play.

Rich, red, blood builds and sustains
Your physician will tell you that lowered vitality is the result of an insufficient supply of red blood cells—those vitalizing elements in the blood that nourish and sustain the body.

When you get your red blood cells back up to normal, that sluggish, let-down feeling, loss of appetite, rheumatism, boils, pimples, and skin troubles disappear. You get hungry again; sleep soundly; solid flesh takes the place of that which was once flabby. You feel strong; and your nerves become steady.

BEHIND THE SCREENS

With NELSON B. BELL

Lawrence Beatus, better known to the Capital as "Larry," left his post as managing director of the Loew interests in this city after thirteen years of service in that capacity, and departed from Washington Sunday night to accept an executive position in the New York home office of Loew, Inc. The promotion is in pursuance of the Loew policy of choosing its executives from within its own ranks and in recognition of Mr. Beatus' proved ability and record of performance.

"Larry" Beatus knows the theater from the marquee to the back wall and show business from A to Z. His career began 23 years ago as a water boy in the Lyceum Theater in Memphis, Tenn. For a number of years he served in various capacities there and finally journeyed to New York in response to the urging of youth. In time he became associated with the Shuberts.

In 1912 he joined the Loew organization and managed various houses in Canada, was his next assignment. In 1915 Mr. Loew, during his lifetime one of "Larry's" staunchest friends, sent him to Washington, realizing that a Southerner in all probability would prove most valuable in the South. Since that time the Loew corporation has come to look upon its houses in the National Capital as the most thoroughly organized, the best managed and the most profitable of any on its circuit of several hundred theaters. The reason, in large measure, has been "Larry" Beatus, who has proved himself capable in every department of the theater—production, publicity, projection, the selection of pictures, house management, etc.

Mr. Beatus is married and the father of two handsome sons. Mrs. Beatus and the small boys will remain in their Varnum street home until Larry has become at least partially acclimated to his new surroundings, a matter which he naturally approaches with enthusiasm, although not without a pang at severing pleasant relationships with a vast number of well wishers in this city, where he has for so many years been a well known and popular figure.

Just another good friend gone up to the big time.

Pardon the interruption, but Gene Austin, the tenor de luxe, who is well known to local theatergoers as well as to those who prefer their yodels preserved on Victor discs, has been a visitor in the Capital these last few days on an urgent matter of purely personal enjoyment.

Mr. and Mrs. Austin and a party of guests anchored off these verdant shores last Friday, unless I have been right regally kidding, having strolled to their local moorings from adjacent Chesapeake waters in their own pleasure craft.

Gene, I believe, lends his incomparable vocal endowments to the distinction of the biggest selling records the Victor people turn out, and so it is that he got his yacht for a song, as you might say, if you had the nerve.

About the only place on earth that hasn't already served its turn as background for a movie drama is the Panama Canal. It has been glimpsed now and again in the newscasts, and a while back some one was going to send a troupe of actors south to dramatize this prodigious monument to the engineering skill of Gen. Goethals, but didn't.

Now, however, Richard Barthelmess is preparing to go to the Canal Zone for important exterior in his next film, "Scarlet Seas," which is mainly about a tramp schooner and its mutinous crew. So, if all goes well, the picturegoers of the United States will be able to estimate the romantic potentialities of their $100,000,000 waterway on the screen next winter.

Barthelmess and his director, Francis Dillon, plan to start south in a week or two. This is the only instance on record where an idea had to be ditched to be successful.

To Mr. W. A. Whitney, of 1827 Lamont street, I am indebted for definite corroboration of something I have suspected for the past fortnight. It is that, as we had supposed, Washington is again proving itself a prolific source of competent stage talent by supplying the personnel of the ballet corps that has appeared in abbreviated numbers on the Fox stage these last two weeks.

The six young corymbes who last week executed an effective gypsy dance and this week appear in an equally spirited number introductory to the bizarre burlesquary of "George Schreck are Mary Deery, Helene Kearney, Margaret Oulahan, Peggy Little, Lydia Jones and Eleanor Giovannetti.

All are former members of the late lamented (it is the voice of Mr. Whitney now speaking) Fox ballet.

Going a little farther into the current bill at the Fox it may be said that Duke Yellman and his serenaders, featuring the stage revue, occupy a unique position among stage bands. They have made ten round trips to the Pacific Coast; have played a variety of musical comedies of the first rank; have toured the principal vaudeville houses of the country and now are devising their tuneful activities to the more pretentious picture house presentations.

Yellman has toured the foremost salons of the dance in the East and was featured on the Steel Pier in Atlantic City for an entire season. During all of these diversified engagements only two changes in playing personnel have occurred.

Jack Stebbins certainly "got the duke" when he signed this one!

Movie fans not more than 6,000 miles from Hollywood may also shortly witness a rather late in the day routine of a motion picture location camp by tuning in on stations KGOZ and KGOX, operating in 48.5 meters between the United Artists studio and a Santa Cruz Island location, about 100 miles distant, where Ronald Colman is doing exterior for his latest picture.

The stations operate all day, keeping the studio and camp in constant contact. Of course, the "entertainment" may consist of early morning Wall Street quotations on certain stocks, flashed to Herbert Brenon, the director, so that he can begin work with reasonable peace of mind, and such occasional messages, sandwiched between studio orders and camp reports, as "telephone my wife I'll be home for dinner Saturday" or "rush two boxes of cigars and another quart of that nose Duco by the next tug," but still you can get it, if you can get it!

A word of Lee Cronican, pianist at Loew's Palace Theater, who this week is pinch hitting for Wesley Eddy, the vaconating master of ceremonies, who wields the baton in the faces of the Palace Synopsators.

Mr. Cronican, who is to be rated among the local musicians of note, is a native of Carlisle, Pa., and began the study of music at the age of 5. It was then he was given his first piano lesson. At the age of 15 he left school to tour as an accompanist, a pursuit which he followed for twelve years, during which he was associated with many of the foremost concert artists in America, frequently appearing in recital himself.

After naval service during the war, Mr. Cronican became organist and choirmaster of Helen Gould's Memorial Church at Irvington-on-the-Hudson and also served as associate teacher in the studio of Percy Rector Stephens.

It was here that he accompanied and coached such artists as Reginald Wernath, Paul Althouse and other notables. After four years in this capacity he married and came to Washington, where he has become a familiar figure at the Palace. Radio audiences have had frequent opportunity to hear him during the past 3 years.

The logical selection, obviously, to substitute for Mr. Eddy.

The same human habit of associating all fleeing bank robbers with high-powered cars, all millionaires with palatial yachts and all orators with all-very long, seems to be screen players inevitably to "exclusive Hollywood" places.

The satery in which a film comedian was recently stricken with a fatal illness was identified automatically in many of the early stories of his death as "an exclusive Hollywood cafe." It so happened that it was a lunch wagon across the street from his studio.

I assume that the gentleman died of a counter irritant!

This week's most significant subtitle is in "Lady Be Good" at the Earle, and occurs when Mae forgets to rap at her playful husband's dressing-room door: "An engine whistles; an automobile honks, but a wife walks right in!"

The answer is at the Fox: "Don't Marry!"

CITY HEADS APPEAL TEACHERS PAY CASES

Writ of Error Asked in Litigation Involving Adjustments Totalling $280,000.

The District Commissioners yesterday asked the Court of Appeals for a writ of error to the municipal court in the five test cases which were won May 31 by public school teachers in a contest involving an adjustment of their salaries under a recent Act of Congress. This controversy involved 426 teachers. The amount involved in all these cases is about $280,000.

The law adjusting the teachers' salaries went into effect about three years ago, but the Commissioners disagreed with the teachers as to the amounts due them. An association was formed to fight for the increases. After the Commissioners refused to agree with the teachers the latter appealed to J. Raymond McCarl, Comptroller General, but he declined to interfere on the ground that he was interested only in overpayments of Government money.

Judge James A. Cobb, of the municipal court, heard arguments in the five test cases and awarded the teachers judgment against the District Attorney Paul E. Lesh appeared for the teachers and he will oppose the plea of the Commissioners for the allowance of the writ of error.

INFLUENCE OF DIET ON TEETH DECAY.

DRS. BOYD AND DRAIN think that teeth decay because the diet is wrong, and that the way to prevent or cure this is by the use of a proper diet. The evidence which convinced them came from watching the mouths of diabetic children. While these children were on ordinary diets decay proceeded rapidly. As soon as the diets were properly adjusted decay stopped. No new cavities appeared and the dentine surrounding the old cavities became firm.

Childhood is the period of decay of teeth. As a rule, more cavities will form in one year in the teeth of a child than in any ten years of adult life. This is because nutrition is so important in childhood, and so many children live close to the nutrition deadline.

In their observation the cleanliness of the mouth, the care given the teeth, the formation of tartar, and the presence of carious were of much less importance than nutrition in causing decay of teeth.

In these cases the diabetes was not a factor of importance. These children being diabetic, had to be fed properly, and to have their nutrition watched by experts. That was about all the diabetes had to do with the case. The ordinary diet given children contains too little fats, vitamins and minerals, and too much carbohydrates such as starches and sugars. The diets on which these children were fed contained more fat and less carbohydrates; more vitamins and more minerals. They got more of their energy from fats and less of it from sugar, breads, cereals and desserts.

Cod liver oil, eggs, gravies and sauces, bacon, fat meats, all kinds of vegetables, fruits, and plenty of milk made up the ration. When they were given vegetables the liquor was served with the vegetables, or it was made into soups. The diets gave a preponderance of alkaline ash and were classed as basic ash diets.

When children with diabetes are properly dieted and given the right amount of insulin they behave much as other children do. They hold their weight, grow, have enough pep, act as though they enjoy life, and keep in apparent good health.

Apparently, so far as their teeth are concerned, they are better off than the average run of children.

Drs. Boyd and Drain offer their observation on these children as a guide to the feeding of all children whose teeth are decaying.

PUFFS ABOUT THE EYES.
L. J. M. writes: 1. What causes puffs about the eyes? I have been bothered since childhood, but sometimes it is more noticeable than others.

2. What causes the face to become fat while the rest of the body remains thin?
3. Can anything be done to regulate the distribution of weight over the body?

REPLY.
1. A frequent cause is Bright's disease. Some people have such puffs without any cause that can be discovered.

2. Just the nature of the brute, I suppose.

3. Very little.

HIS CURE FOR HEAD LICE.
S. writes: I send you this cheap, sure cure for head lice:

Take a tin can of cup; in it put tobacco stems or cigar stubs, or tobacco of any sort. Pour on hot water and let steep. When a strong infusion is got, add a little lard and mix. Rub a little of this grease just back of ears and crown of hair.

REPLY.
Two words of caution.

This is not entirely safe. Wrap the head while the ointment is on. After an hour wash it out with soap and water.

Nits may escape this treatment and later hatch out.

Therefore, repeat in about two weeks.

"Amazing—so many women must learn this from others"

—writes a Washington hostess

The embarrassment of this grave social offense is finally ended. This scientific sanitary pad is now treated by patented* process to end all offense.

Deodorizes... and 4 other important features:

- 1—Softer gauze ends chafing; pliable filler absorbs as no other substance can;
- 2—Corners are rounded and tapered; no evidence of sanitary protection under any gown;
- 3—Deodorizes—safely, thoroughly, by a new and exclusive patented process;
- 4—Adjust it to your needs; filler may be made thinner, thicker, narrower as required; and
- 5—It is easily disposed of; no unpleasant laundry.

KOTEX

The New Sanitary Pad which deodorizes

one remaining problem in connection with sanitary pads is solved!

No more bulky outlines

That awful feeling of being conspicuous because of the bulkiness of old-time methods is gone, too. Kotex pads are rounded and tapered so there is no evidence of sanitary protection when worn. You may add or remove layers of filler, as needed—a thing all women appreciate. There is a new softness, because both filler and gauze have been specially treated. Finally, Kotex is so easy to dispose of, eliminating all need of laundering.

Buy a box today, at any drug, dry goods or department store... 45c for a box of twelve. Supplied, also, in rest-room vending cabinets.

WHERE smart women gather socially—or in business—even the most attractive are guilty of offending others at certain times. Yet they, themselves, seldom realize it. When told, they become miserably self-conscious. They try in vain to overcome the difficulty by make-shift methods. Now science offers safe and certain relief from this fear.

Kotex now scientifically deodorizes*

Millions of women have learned to depend on Kotex within the last ten years. It has brought them better health, greater peace-of-mind under trying conditions. Now comes an added advantage. Kotex chemists have discovered (and patented) a process that absolutely ends all odors. After several years of research, the

FEDERAL RESERVE LOANS AND DISCOUNTS FALL OFF

Credit Increases $580,000, 000 in 13 Month, Board's Bulletin Reveals.

TRACTION BONDS TRADED

By ROBERT C. ALBRIGHT.

A fall-off of $68,000,000 in loans and discounts and of $47,000,000 in investments is reported for the week in the Federal Reserve Board's condition statement of 637 reporting member banks in leading cities, made public yesterday.

Declines of $225,000,000 in deposits and of $82,000,000 in borrowings from Federal Reserve banks are disclosed. Points on stocks and bonds, including United States Government securities, were $151,000,000 below the July 11 total, but "all other" loans and discounts increased $63,000,000 during the week.

Holdings of United States Government securities declined $29,000,000 in the New York district, $10,000,000 in the Chicago district, and $23,000,000 in all other districts, but increased $9,000,000 in the Boston district and $6,000,000 in the San Francisco district. Holdings of other bonds, stocks and securities declined $24,000,000 in all reporting banks and $13,000,000 in the New York district.

Declines in nearly all districts are shown in the demand deposits, which at all reporting banks were $148,000,000 below the July 11 total. These deposits declined $48,000,000 at all reporting banks, $21,000,000 in the New York district and $3,000,000 each in the Philadelphia and Chicago districts, according to the statement.

A decrease of $145,000,000 in borrowings from the Federal Reserve Bank of Reporting member banks in the New York district, were partly brought by increases in most of the other districts, principally Chicago, St. Louis, San Francisco, Philadelphia, Atlanta and Kansas City, all reporting banks showing a net decrease of $82,000,000 for the week.

Gold Stock Decreases.

Between the middle of May, 1927, when this country's gold holdings were at their peak, and the end of June of this year, there was a decrease in the gold stock of about $500,000,000 and an increase in reserve bank credit outstanding of about $520,000,000, it is revealed in the July issue of the Federal Reserve Bulletin, released yesterday.

Traction Bonds Prominent.

Capital Traction 5s figured prominently in bond trading on the Washington Stock Exchange yesterday, $1,500 changing hands at 102 in three lots. The issue was sold fractionally below the last price brought on the market. Potomac Electric Consolidated 5s were 1/4 point off, $2,000 trading at 102 1/2. The "baby" gas issues were also down. Washington Gas 6s, which brought 102 1/2 and Washington Gas 5s, Series B, 104 1/2. Washington Gas 5s held at 103.

Trading in stocks also ran to the utilities. Washington Gas Light was strong, 61 shares selling fractionally up at 96 1/2 and 97. Bankers' Association Gas was slightly off, 55 shares selling at 105 to 105 1/2. Potomac Electric 6 per cent preferred was down 1/4 of a point at 111, and Potomac Electric 5 1/2 per cent preferred sold at 1/4 of a point off at 107. Washington Railway & Electric preferred at 99 1/2, was up 1/4 of a point above the last sales price.

RADIO VISITS TO CAMPS OF PUGILISTS SCHEDULED

Listeners to Hear From Tunney and Heeney Stations Tonight.

LIPPMANN WILL SPEAK

A radio visit to the training camps of Gene Tunney and Tom Heeney, heavyweight championship contender, has been planned for listeners at 7 o'clock tonight through WEA, WRC and associated NBC stations. Without stirring from their homes, listeners may take part in this radio tour of inspection under the expert guidance of Joe Williams, prominent metropolitan sports writer.

Aided by special music and novelty effects, Williams' vivid narrative will take his audience first to Speculator, N. Y., there to view the present champion, Gene Tunney, in action with his sparring partners, then to the punching bag, and in relaxation just before his title bout with the Australian contender, From Speculator the scene shifts to Fair Haven, N. J., where similar preparations will be observed in the enemy's camp.

Prominent among the musical numbers to be heard will be the "Semper Fidelis March," favorite of the Marines, and the Australian National Anthem to be heard in Heeney's stronghold.

Walter Lippmann, distinguished author and authority on foreign and domestic politics, and Ogden L. Mills, Undersecretary of the Treasury, will be the speakers in the Service Platform pronouncements of both parties on foreign policy will be subjected to their scrutiny.

Phil Ohman and Victor Arden, guest stars of the Seiberling Hour, will play a special arrangement of "Last Rose of Summer" in a program of novelties at 7:30 o'clock. "None but the Lonely Heart" will be presented as a vocal solo with cello obligato.

The soloists in the Eveready Hour at 8 o'clock will be Marjorie Horton, soprano, and Edwin Delmore, tenor, who, in addition to several solo numbers, will be heard in a duet midway through the program—a selection known as "Maytime."

"The Dark Madonna," by Donaldson, will be heard for the first time on the air during this program.

The Slumber Music program follows: Selection from "Martha," Flotow; "Swing Along," negro spiritual; Cook; "Rosebud," Sanford; "Marche Mignonne," Poldini; "Arabesque," Bohm; "Eternite Inverse," Ganne; "Melodie Creole," and "Evening," Maduro; "Prelude," Bach, and "Let Me Dream Again," Sullivan.

"Funny Experiences of an Insurance Man" will be the subject of a reading by Paul F. Grove, at, from Station WMAL at 9 o'clock. A musical program, directed by Dr. C. E. Christiani, at 8 o'clock and a recital by Portia Clifford Bailey, mezzo-soprano, and Donald Brown, pianist, at 9:30 o'clock are included in the program.

Station WRHP will be on the air at 5:15 o'clock with a musical program, followed by the regular dinner concert at 6 o'clock.

HELLO - FLORIST - PLEASE
SEND A DOZEN AMERICAN BEAUTY
ROSES AND A GREAT BIG BUNCH OF FORGET-ME-NOTS TO
MRS. ANDREW GUMP -
YOU HAVE THE ADDRESS ON FILE - RUSH THEM - PLEASE -

DEAR MIN - YOU DON'T KNOW HOW LUCKY YOU ARE TO BE PARKING ON A NICE COOL MOUNTAIN
FAR AWAY FROM THIS RED HOT CITY - THE WEATHER MAN IS PLAYING HIS FIDDLE WHILE THE CITY IS BURNING - OLD SOL IS USING THIS TOWN FOR A BOWLING ALLEY - PEOPLE ARE DROPPING LIKE TEN
PINS - IT WOULD ENDANGER GOLIATH'S HEALTH
TO BRING HIM INTO THIS OVEN - I'LL WIRE YOU TO RETURN THE MOMENT I THINK IT IS SAFE - LOVE AND KISSES
ANDY -

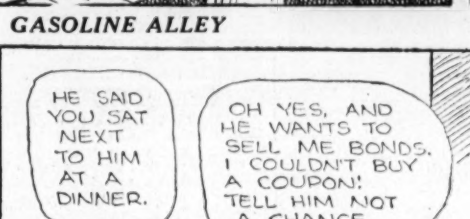

A Word to the Wife Is Sufficient

GOSH! THAT EYE LOOKS BLACKER THAN THE HEART OF AN INK WELL - IF MIN EVER SAW THAT MOURNFUL LAMP - I COULD SPEND THE REST OF MY LIFE MAKING OUT AFFIDAVITS THAT IT WAS CAUSED BY A GOLF BALL - AND BE STILL EXPLAINING THE DAY AFTER MY FUNERAL - BUT THE FLOWERS AND TELEGRAM I SENT WILL KEEP HER CLIMBING MOUNTAINS UNTIL MY EYE PEEPS OUT FROM BEHIND THE

A Ruined Castle.

Warwick, England.
THE pleasure of my stay in this part of England has been increased by the kindness of Charles Holmes, one of the councilors (aldermen) of Warwick. He has driven me to places of interest and has explained many points about English life.

One of our most interesting visits was made to the ruins of the castle at Kenilworth. Perhaps you have read or heard of the book by Sir Walter Scott which has the title "Kenilworth." Scott is said to have written the volume while at a hotel in the village near the castle ruins.

Perhaps the first thing I thought of when I saw the castle was the damage which was done by powder and ball.
The place was captured by Oliver Cromwell, and he ordered that it be destroyed.

Amid the ruins one can see the outline of the great hall which was used for banquets. This part of the castle was set up by the order of John of Gaunt, almost 500 years ago.

At one place, I measured the thickness of a wall by stretching out my arms. It was almost as much as I could do to have one hand on each side at the same time. At that point the wall is about five feet thick.

Queen Elizabeth was entertained at this castle several times. One of her visits lasted two weeks, and 320 barrels of beer were consumed during the parties which were given.

There is a field with in the castle walls where knights used to carry on their jousting. The "ladies" were in the habit of watching the matches from windows.

On our return from the castle we visited a mill which dates from Anglo-Saxon times. It is supposed to be the oldest mill in the world which is still running. Of course it has been repaired from time to time.

Next I shall tell you about English music.
